

THE EASY WAY TO ENCRYPT YOUR LAPTOP

EASY, CONVENIENT AND SECURE

Alertsec Xpress automatically encrypts all information stored on a computer. There is a serious and growing risk of information breach on the rapidly growing laptop market. These computers frequently store enterprise's most current and valuable information.

An additional, often not recognised problem, is that a computer is the most available and vulnerable starting point for access to a network. Studies of computer crime reveal that insiders pose the largest threat. Clearly, providing secure computers is an essential component of establishing network security.

ENCRYPTION IS THE ONLY SECURE WAY TO PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

If the unthinkable happens and you lose your laptop, Alertsec Xpress works as a security layer on top of your hard disk. The result is complete peace of mind. The information is encrypted at all times and cannot be compromised. The Alertsec Xpress security service is based on Check Point's Full Disk Encryption solution, the global leader with 14 million users worldwide.
